

Burnham Norton Volunteer notes: What to do in an emergency

Do not hesitate to call 999 in the case of a genuine life-threatening emergency, such as chest pain, shortness of breath, unconsciousness or serious bleeding.

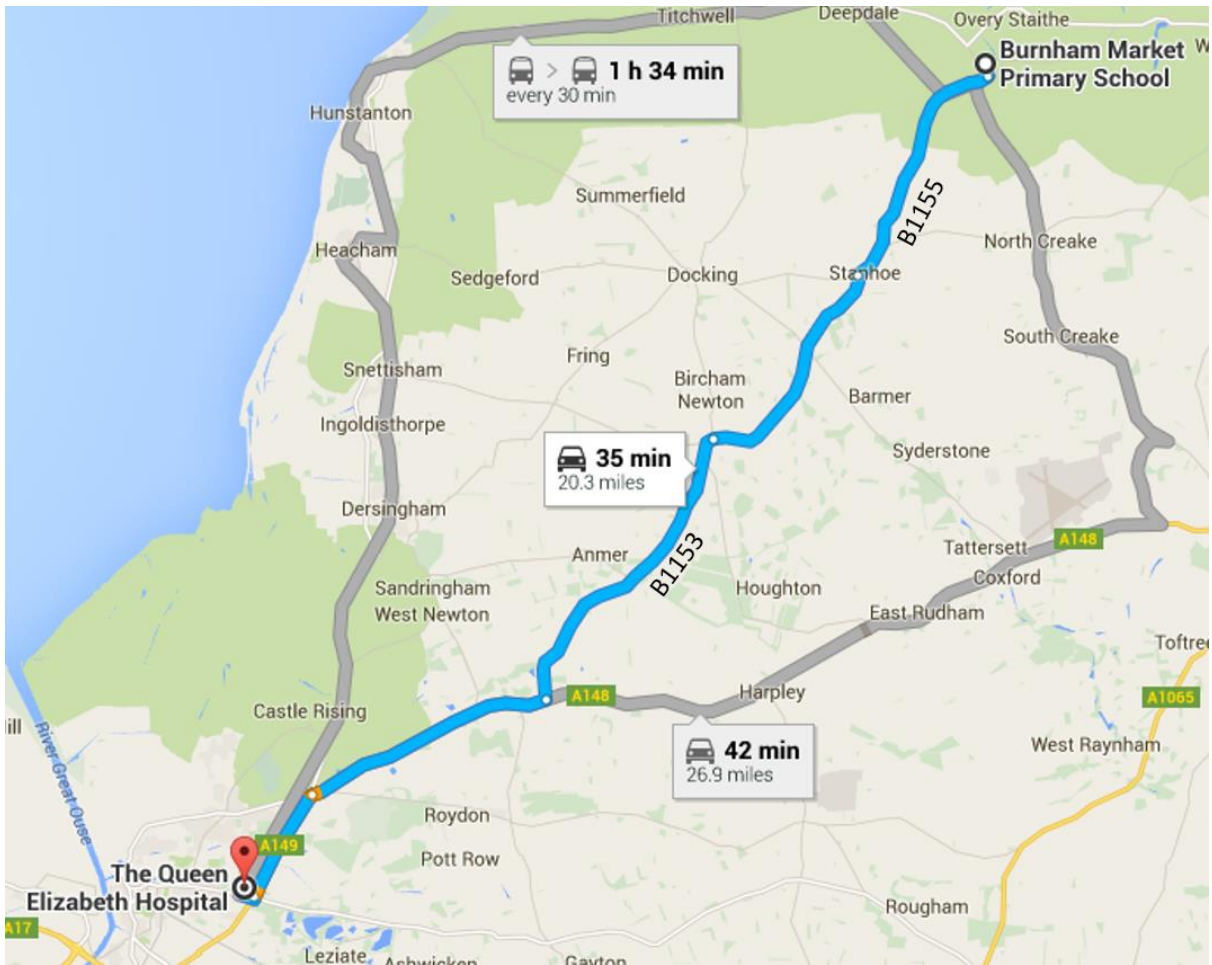

If you believe a person needs to go to hospital, can they get there by car, public transport or taxi? They will not be seen any quicker at the hospital if they arrive by ambulance.

- Details of what is wrong and what has happened
- The exact location of the incident:

- Address: Friary, Opposite Burnham Market School, Friar's Lane, Burnham Market

- The phone number you are calling from
- Write your mobile phone number here:

If it is appropriate an ambulance response will be dispatched immediately, but you will be asked to stay on the phone so that the ambulance call-taker can give you medical advice on how best to help the patient. This will not delay the ambulance response.

There are a number of ways you can help the ambulance responder or crew before they arrive:

- Stay with the patient until the ambulance or rapid response vehicle arrives. Call back if their condition or location changes
- If you are not near the road, get someone to wait by the road and signal where the response is required
- If you can, write down the patient's GP's details and collect any medication they may need
- Remember to stay calm - ambulance crews are there to help and violence towards them will not be tolerated.

A traditional ambulance may not be the first vehicle to arrive on scene. It could be:

- A Community First Responder
- A single crewed response vehicle with an emergency care practitioner, paramedic or emergency medical technician
- An air ambulance
- An emergency doctor
